RanCorp "Shackle" Stun Cuffs

These stun cuffs are preferred by bounty hunters. Instead of being attached by a chain the cuffs are free of each other but send out a range finding signal to each other. If the distance is more than what it is set to allow the cuffs will release a stun charge to their captive. These are very easy to conceal making it less obvious the person is being taken prisoner. Also if the prisoner was unconscious at time of capture he may not realize what the cuffs are....at first.
