Description: The Orikon Speeder was a utility speeder sold by Czerka some 4000 years before the rise of the Galactic Empire. Used on a number of worlds for farm work and other labour intensive applications, these vehicles are rugged and reliable, although slow with little storage capacity compared to later vehicles. They were among the first repulsorlift vehicles adopted by the civilian population, although the military had been using the technology for centuries it had only recently dropped to a economical price and its ability to go everywhere made these speeders extremely popular on frontier worlds where roads and cleared terrain were still uncommon.
