Description: The Foot-Soldier TG-85 is a fairly standard Blaster Carbine, which doesn't vary much in design from the more common BlasTech and SoroSuub versions. The twin handles make it a comfortable weapon to use, but the rear loaded power pack is unstandard in design, meaning that only power packs from the TG-85 can be used with this weapon, which was an unpopular choice. However the sights mounted on top of the gun, which reduce all range penalties by one level, have been widely liked by purchasers, as has the cooling shroud around the barrel which reduces the cooling time between shots.
