Description: The Proton is a battlefield sniper weapon, designed to take out enemy commanders and leaders, so for this reason it is capable of penetrating most armours and light vehicles. The Proton is known to be a very powerful weapon, leading to its restriction from civilian purchasers, and shares more in common with a speeder laser cannon than traditional blaster rifles. Although it has a very restrictive ammunition capacity, the weapon is still used widely across the galaxy by armed forces, who love the fact that this simple and easily portable weapon can destroy many speeders, and even light walkers with a single shot, and sales of this single weapon have made Terranon Blaster Technologies into a multi million credit organisation.
