Description: Brother Armias was a Narkis Anchorite who operated on the moon Jedha. He was a known associate of Jedi Master Cere Junda, and held the contact codes for the Hidden Path network, which protected Force-sensitive beings and their families from the Inquisitorius. As the Galactic Empire closed in on the Pilgrim's Sanctuary safe house in 9 BBY, Armias entrusted the contact codes to Jedi Knight Cal Kestis, who Armias recognized from Junda's stories. Shortly after handing over the codes, Armias was inadvertently crushed by a metal arm of a Trident-class assault ship, killing him.
