RanCorp Encounterer Heavy Blaster Pistol

Made by the unknown Jer`segan engineer who designed the Nova plasma rifle, the encounterer was also made to solve a problem. How to let troops have a strong pistol that could allow them to fire quickly against multiple targets. The design is based off of a Bryar pistol. The blaster holds more ammo than most Heavy Blasters can and has an average punch to it. The downside is that it's range is very small. This weapon is favored by goverment troops across the galaxy.
