Races D6 / Cathar

Cathar

Cathar are a species known for their longevity, members of which have been known to survive for millennia.

Cathar is the home planet of the Cathar race, Cathar was dominated by vast, rolling plains and dense forests. The plains were the home of a species of gigantic insects, while the trees were carved into cities by the native Cathar.

Two of the most well-known Cathar heroes are the female Sylvar and her mate Crado. They were powerful Jedi Knights, four thousand years before the Galactic Civil War. Crado fell to the dark side under the influence of Exar Kun. When Crado was killed, Sylvar's anger over his death almost caused her to fall to the dark side, before returning to the light. Crado and Sylvar have memorials on Cathar carved into the trees of their homeworld.
