

Weapons D6 / Mestic Munitions Model 16

Mestic M-16 Assault Rifle

The M-16 is a versatile weapon produced by the Mid Rim company, Mestic Munitions. The standard base model of the M-16 comes standard with a custom fit strap, a special ammo clip belt, and a flash suppressor. It has two modes, semi-automatic and full-automatic, which the user can switch between by flipping a thumb switch above the handle.

Mestic sells several other versions of the M-16, each customized to specific needs of particular uses, such as infantry, stealth, and heavy weapons support.

The stock M-16 is extremely popular among many planetary defense forces, criminal organizations, police forces, and some not very well supplied New Republic outposts. Kashan Industries, a strong rival of Mestic, has created a duplicate rifle with a different look, a larger standard ammunition clip, and a claim of overall superiority.
