

Weapons D6 / Verdant Technology KI-lah7

The KI-lah7 is VerdantTech's first slugthrower design and is a moderate success. Rather than metal, it's main body is amde of a ceramic polymer that is both lighter and more durable than the metal would be. This also prevents it from setting off most weapons detectors. The shotgun has fairly impressive stopping pwoer while being able to fire off two rounds in five seconds which is not unimpressive for a shotgun. Under the shotgun barrel is a short grenade launcher capable of firing most smaller(charachter scale only) grenades aside from thermal detonators.
