Weapons D6 / Lumnar Industries Ice Sh

Lumnar "Ice" Shard Pistol

The "Ice" series is so named because the projectile it launchers looks like an ice crystal. It is a sharp gem shaped with either end coming to sharp points and it is clear ice blue. Inside the projectile is an acid capsule the breaks open when the shard's momentum is broken. This acid capsule disentegrates the projectile leaving no trace that the weapon was fired. If the round does not penetrate a body fully the acid capsule will release inside them or their armour. This works to the firers advantage because it give the one round a second chance to finish it's target off. Victim of assassination have often been found with strange acid burns in the floor or street around them. This weapon is rarely found outside the hands of professional assassins.
