

Weapons D6 / Kleriian Sword of Armegeddon

The Sword of Armegeddon

Swords in the modern galaxy are generally considered a collector's item as they pose no real purpose. Ancient armies used to carry swords and battle axes into war, but in the modern era, blasters and artillery pieces are the weapons of choice.

The Sword of Armegeddon is a unique weapon that was specially crafted by the master swordsman, Almi Kleriian, nearly 500 standard years ago by the specifications given by Kel Sapur.

The Sword of Armegeddon is a two-handed sword with a double-edged 124 centimeter long blade made out of the finest metals in the known galaxy. Kel recently acquired a vibro-conversion kit on the black market and converted the sword into perhaps the galaxy's only two-handed vibrosword.
