detonation of the shell, this will cause the net to backfire and wrap around the rifle as well as the firer. Also the net when it hits it's target or targets it will stick with a holding strength of 4D

This rifle is a fairly ulky rifle that must be fired two handed. It fires a shell that blows apart upon exiting the barrel realeasing an expanding stun net set to do a certain amount of damage to subdue the target. This weapon was originaly meant to capture dangerous animals alive.
