Verdant Spaceworks Bulk Cargo Transport

Like the Hercules, the Mammoth's "little brother", the Mammoth Megahuler is an in system workhorse for Verdant. It was also put on the market for whoever wanted to buy the craft, and of course some did. The large transport is relatively cheap due to the fact that you don't have to pay for a hyperdrive and nav computer. The transport also has some room for passengers, wether they are security escorts, or jsut workers catching a ride to work. The Mammoth is a typical sight at Nova-Dock Shipyards and at some non-Verdant facilities.
