Manta Class Intrasystem Assault Craft

The Manta-Class Light Assault Cruiser is another of the new Jer`Segan designs employed by KDY. They are small fast and manuverable cradft bearing two mandible mounted phase disruptors while a protrusion looking rather like a catwalk over the dish shape of the main body holds a quantum torpedo launcher. The craft has no hyperdrive and therefore has to be carried into the system by another craft. Several bounty hunters have been seen with these ships.
