PDF Compact Assault Vehicle

When the Palvar Defense Force examined the success of the compact assault vehicle, or CAV, in the Imperial Army, it knew that they needed a similar vehicle to supplement their armor units.

When the PDF contracted Kashan Industries to manufacture CAVs they still weren't fully decided upon whether or not to make it a repulsorlift or a treaded vehicle. Kashan Industries offered up a compromise that just might revolutionize ground vehicles across the galaxy. A repulsorlift ground vehicle.

The CAV-A1 is a light-weight, maneuverable vehicle that packs the punch of some light repulsortanks. It is typically deployed to tank regiments in fairly large numbers to supplement light to heavy repulsortanks on the battlefield, however, there is at least one dedicated CAV regiment in the PDF.

The CAV-A1 is unique in that it is a ground vehicle boasting a repulsorlift generator. The repulsorlift only has the power to function for a few seconds before needing recharged, but this is often more than enough time to clear obstacles that might have otherwise prevented the CAV from passing.

The CAV-A1 has an extremely limited arsenal that incorporates only a single forward firing heavy laser cannon intended for use against other light to medium ground vehicles.
