Charcter Bio - Alpha-?2 was cloned from the Mandalorian bounty hunter Jango Fett by the Kaminoan cloners on the planet Kamino in 32 BBY, one of the first test class of Advanced Recon Commando soldiers made as part of the order for the Grand Army of the Republic. While the Kaminoans instilled uniformity in their clones, limiting the choices and individuality available to them, Alpha-?2 was a case of a one percent failure rate in the Kaminoans' product. Of the hundred ARC troopers in his class, he alone was independent and free-thinking, rejecting the anonymity enforced on him, and internalizing no loyalty to the Galactic Republic. Like all aberrant clones—which appeared in 3.5 percent of the general clone population—Alpha-?2 was put through reconditioning. The process did not take, but Alpha-?2 seemed to blend in with the other clones, and his peculiarity was not noticed. The Kaminoan handlers came to call him "Spar." Alpha-?2 developed a friendship with Mij Gilamar, one of the Mandalorian Cuy'val Dar trainers working as a doctor. Eight-and-a-half years after his cloning, when he was biologically seventeen years of age, Alpha-?2 heard a mention of Jango Fett's exploits, which triggered a memory in him—not of his own life, but of Fett's. Fett's memories returned to Alpha-?2 in a rush; and, knowing that they would be reconditioned out of him, he prepared to make his escape from Kamino. Alpha-?2 began faking insanity and headaches to meet with Gilamar. Gilamar eventually called in a favor with Jango Fett to smuggle Alpha-?2 off Kamino in the hold of Fett's ship, Slave I. Alpha-?2's escape made him the first deserter from the Grand Army.
