Description: The Czerka Adventurer was an accurate long-barreled slugthrower rifle. Manufactured by Czerka Arms, it was slightly more advanced than the Czerka 6-2Aug2 hunting rifle as it included an oxidizer release module which increased the bullet's velocity.

The Adventurer was often used by bounty hunters and assassins as it was easily assembled and disassembled, allowing it to be smuggled. Additionally, since the weapon fired slugs it was suitable for stealthy night missions as it avoided the bright bolts of a blaster. Aurra Sing was known to use this weapon.
