Description: The Kamino flight pod, also known as the Kamino spacecraft, was a type of starship used on the planet Kamino.

The ship could be piloted by one person and had room for two others. It was spherical in shape and had four landing legs, two thrusters, and an oval cockpit window.

General Grievous stole one such vessel to escape from Kamino following the Battle of Kamino. Making his way off-world, he picked up Asajj Ventress along the way. Later, the ARC Trooper Fives and AZ-3, a medical droid who helped him, stole a flight pod and used it to escape from Kaminoans who wanted to kill him.
