Creatures D6 / Momong

Name: Momong
Type: Primate

Dexterity: 3D+2
Perception: 3D+2
Strength: 2D

Special Abilities

Arboreal: Momong are natural tree climbers, and can easily move through the branches using their four arms. They gain a bonus 2D to all Climbing/Jumping rolls.

Semi-sentient: Although not highly intelligent creatures, they can be taught some tool use and simple tasks.

Move: 6
Size: 1m
Orneriness: 2D

Description: Momongs, also known as Trandoshan monkeys, were a species of primates that lived in the trees of Wasskah, the moon of the planet Trandosha. They had six limbs, a long tail, big ears and green eyes. Their fur was mostly orange, with occasional black and white patches. The momongs were carnivores, preying on the yellow birds known as the convorees. They were at least semi-sentient, as proven by their ability to use simple tools or weapons. During the Clone Wars, at least one momong had found its way offworld. That creature was seen in a slave market of Zygerria, where it dueled with a Kowakian monkey-lizard with miniature swords.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive Text from WookieePedia
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.