Characters D6 / Wicket Wystri Warrick

Name: Wicket Wystri Warrick
Homeworld: Endor
Born: Circa 8 BBY, Endor
Species: Ewok
Gender: Male
Height: 0.8 meters
Mass: 20 kilograms
Hair color: Brown
Eye color: Brownish black
MOVE - 9

DEXTERITY: 3D+2
- Dodge: 4D+2
- Melee Combat: 5D
- Thrown Weapons: 7D

PERCEPTION: 4D
- Bargain: 5D
- Con: 4D+2
- Hide: 5D+1
- Search; Tracking: 6D
- Sneak: 5D+1

KNOWLEDGE: 2D
- Languages: 4D
- Survival: 3D
- Survival; Forest: 6D

STRENGTH: 3D
- Climbing/Jumping: 4D+2

MECHANICAL: 2D+2
- Glider: 4D

TECHNICAL: 2D+2
- Primitive Construction: 4D+2

SPECIAL ABILITIES
- Smell: Ewoks get +1D to search when tracking by scent.

EQUIPMENT
- Spear (+1D damage), Healing Herbs

FORCE SENSITIVE: N
FORCE POINTS: 2

DARK SIDE POINTS: 0
CHARACTER POINTS: 9

Description: Wicket Wystri Warrick was a male Ewok scout, warrior and later Chief of Bright Tree Village on the forest moon of Endor. The great-grandson of Erpham Warrick, Wicket was the third son of Deej and Shodu Warrick, following Weechee and Willy and was the older brother of Winda.

Wicket led an adventurous life, even from a very young age. He and his friends, namely Teebo and Princess Kneesaa, continually protected their village and the surrounding forest from those who would do them harm, such as Morag the Tulgah witch, the Duloks, and other threats from Endor and beyond. He almost even inadvertently killed Emperor Palpatine while defending the sunstar during Doctor Raygar's quest for Imperial domination.

Wicket aided the Towani family when they crash-landed on Endor and later assisted Noa Briqualon in the battle against the Sanyassans. Wicket also played an instrumental role in helping the Rebel Alliance defeat the Galactic Empire during the Battle of Endor. After the death of Chief Chirpa, Wicket and his bride, Kneesaa, ruled over Bright Tree Village together.

The great-grandson of Ewok warrior Erpham Warrick, Wicket Wystri Warrick was born and raised in Bright Tree Village on the forest moon of Endor. Wicket's first name was that of a brave and inquisitive nature spirit of Ewok legend and his surname, "Warrick", was reserved for the greatest of warriors to honor another legendary figure who bore the name. Early on, Wicket exhibited a sense of adventure; though his father, Deej, didn't understand where it came from, Wicket's mother, Shodu, knew that he was simply taking after his father. Wicket grew up with two older brothers, Weechee and Willy, and he developed close friendships with Teebo, Princess Kneesaa, and Latara. Wicket and Teebo played games, like seeing who could hit a burr ball the farthest.

Personality and traits

Of all Wicket's traits, perhaps the most notable was his bravery. Wicket would do anything for his friends and his village. He battled foes of size and number far greater than his own, and yet he always managed to pull through. Wicket had a sense of adventure, which he took after his father, Deej.

However, as Wicket neared adolescence and began filling his belt of honor to become a warrior, he went through a phase of arrogance and egocentricity, traits which often impaired his better judgment and got him into trouble.

Physically speaking, Wicket was somewhat shorter than the average Ewok. He had a keen sense of smell and an acute sense of hearing, both of which made up for the naturally poor eyesight most Ewoks shared. He usually wore a hood made from an animal pelt and later carried a flint-pointed spear.

Powers and abilities

Although clearly not as adept as the sorcerer Logray or his apprentice Teebo, Wicket showed some potential Force-sensitivity in his ability to wield Logray's staff and perform other acts of "magic" while briefly under the shaman's tutelage. Additionally, his ability to see and communicate with the spirit (possibly Force ghost) of his long dead great-grandfather Erpham further indicates at least some connection with the Force.

Stats by FreddyB, descriptive text from WookieePedia
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.