Description: R4-G77 was an astromech droid owned by Hype Fazon of Ace Squadron.

During the New Republic Era, R4-G77 served as the personal astromech for Hype Fazon, a racer of the Colossus refueling station. He took part in many races against the rest of Ace Squadron, where Fazon and R4 nearly always won. Once, when Fazon brought R4 to the Office of Acquisitions to have his motivator looked at, the droid fought back against Flix and Orka's attempts to shut him off so they could diagnose the problem, causing a mess in the shop before Orka managed to shut him down.
