Description: The TIE/dg starfighter, also known as the TIE dagger, or the Sith TIE fighter, was a type of Sith TIE line starship that was forged in secret by sinister forces under the command of the reborn Emperor Palpatine, along with the Xyston-class Star Destroyer and other new technology created by the Final Order. It saw use during the war between the First Order and the Resistance as a new generation of starfighter. It was manufactured by Sienar-Jaemus Fleet Systems and had red designs. It had a cockpit, two triangular-shaped wings that featured solar collectors, and twin ion engines. Its appearance gave the vessel a menacing profile, as well as its menacing name. This ship proved its excellence in dogfighting at the Battle of Exegol, as alongside the fleet of Star Destroyers, it nearly obliterated the Resistance, until Lando Calrissian and Chewbacca arrived just in time with an overwhelming force of starships.
