Grid coordinates: N-13
Primary terrain: Mountains
Points of interest: Grappa's palace
Native species: None
Immigrated species: Hutt, Others
Primary language(s): Galactic Basic Standard

Description: Genon was a planet not far from Imperial commercial centers but it was nearly devoid of settlement because of its most infamous inhabitant: Grappa the Hutt. Grappa used Genon as his base of operations, and his own reputation combined with his well-known connections to Black Sun kept the Empire and others at bay.

Mirith Sinn led a New Republic assault on Grappa's operations in an effort to rescue Kir Kanos and inflicted heavy damage against Grappa's base. Fearing reprisal from Black Sun for Grappa's treachery, Grappa's underlings fled Genon and Grappa himself was taken by the Zanibar. Genon presumably remained uninhabited afterward.

Places of Interest
Grappa's palace
Grappa the Hutt often stayed in this palace if he wasn't out dealing with the Black Sun and the Galactic Empire.
