Story Factors:

Invaded: Mimban has been invaded twice in recent years, with the Confederacy, and then the Empire assaulting the planet. This means that virtually all Mimbanese have taken part in the battles which have wracked their homeworld and are seasoned warriors with many bearing the scars of warfare.

Xenophobic: Mimbanese have learned a harsh lesson about non-mimbanese, having accepted help from the Republic against the Confederacy, but then being conquered by the same soldiers they once fought at the side of. This makes them suspicious of those offering help, and awaiting betrayal from any offworlders.
