Planets D6 / Galitan

Name: Galitan
Region(s): Core Worlds
Sector: Bormea sector
Class: Terrestrial moon

Description: Galitan was a remote moon located in the Ringali Nebula, in the Bormea sector of the Core Worlds. The turbulent forces of the nebula had caused Galitan to shatter into an asteroid field of molten fragments. During the Galactic Civil War, a major battle took place between the Galactic Empire and the New Republic, in which Captain Terisa Kerrill's Titan Squadron and Imperial reinforcements from Admiral Rae Sloane's fleet had trapped General Hera Syndulla's fleet, in an attempt to destroy the prototype Starhawk.

Galitan broadcast hub

The Galitan broadcast hub was a broadcast hub of the Alliance to Restore the Republic that once orbited a nearby moon Galitan during the Galactic Civil War. Four years after a battle at Fostar Haven, it was brought online to send a distress signal to the New Republic for help, after General Hera Syndulla's fleet were attacked and subsequently forced into the Ringali Nebula, and cut off by the Galactic Empire.
