SPECIAL ABILITIES:

Snakelike: Anacondan physiology differs greatly from the majority of races in the galaxy, such as humans. Anacondans are snakelike, which means they have no limbs for grasping or using technology, despite this they are intelligent, and capable of performing many tasks with their mouths for grabbing and manipulating tools. This does mean they get a -1D to all physical activities which would normally require tools. Their body does allow them to move, and swim surprisingly quickly, gaining a +1D on all "Running" and "Swimming" skill rolls.

Needle Teeth: Anacondans have a mouthful of needle-like teeth, giving them a +1D damage when biting.

Move: 8 (with Cybernetic Limbs), 12 (without)
Force Sensitive: No

Force Points: 1
Dark Side Points: 0
Character Points: 3

Equipment:
Comlink, Datapad, Environmental Suit, Medical Kit, Medical Scanner (+1D to medical rolls)

Description: Gino'le was a male Anacondan doctor who served as the Chief of Medical Operations onboard the Galactic Republic space station Starlight Beacon. He outfitted himself with cybernetic limbs in order to better care for patients.
