Description: Chortose was an astronomical object situated in the Rseik sector on the Outer Rim Territories, inhabited by the Chortose species. During the High Republic Era, Agricultural Hub 42 was a factory situated on Chortose. The factory was attacked by the Nihil marauders in the time leading up to the Republic Fair for its sprayer droids. The Jedi Knight Keeve Trennis was sent to defend Chortose, while the Jedi Wayseeker Orla Jareni followed a distress signal to Chortose on her own, assisting Trennis when she was overwhelmed by the Nihil.

Agricultural Hub 42

Agricultural Hub 42 was a factory located on the Rseik sector astronomical object Chortose, ran by Chortose workers. The facility held a variety of plants and utilized sprayer droids. During the High Republic Era, the Nihil marauders attacked Agricultural Hub 42 in order to attain its sprayer droids. Two Chortose brothers, Pango and Gru, were in the factory at the time; while Pango attempted to send a distress signal to the Jedi Order on Starlight Beacon, Gru did not believe they would respond. As the Nihil entered the factory, the Jedi Knight Keeve Trennis intervened, defending the Chortose. Though Trennis herself was overwhelmed before she could defeat the marauders, the Jedi Wayseeker Orla Jareni arrived to assist her.
