Description: Nooranbakarakana was a Frozian Jedi who served the Jedi Order during the High Republic Era. Jedi Master Stellan Gios knew of Nooranbakarakana by reputation alone. The Frozian was among many Jedi who attended the Valo Republic Fair, and helped fight the Nihil when they attacked it. Nooranbakarakana later participated in the Unified Republic Task Force dedicated to ending the Nihil threat.

Biography
Nooranbakarakana was a Frozian who served the Jedi Order during the High Republic Era. The Frozian was known by reputation to Jedi Master Stellan Gios, who spotted Nooranbakarakana among many Jedi who attended the Valo Republic Fair. Later, during the Nihil attack on Valo, Nooranbakarakana was among the assembled Jedi and Galactic Republic forces who checked in with Gios after Padawan Ram Jomaram restored communications channels.

After the attack, the Republic and Jedi set up a Unified Republic Task Force to go after the Nihil, with which Nooranbakarakana participated. Marshal Avar Kriss had an idea to infiltrate the pirates. In order to allow Jedi Knights Keeve Trennis and Terec to get into position to carry out the mission, the Jedi staged a skirmish in the Soola system. When Trennis and Terec attacked Wayseeker Orla Jareni's starship Lightseeker in the captured Stormship Ransacker, Nooranbakarakana was on the bridge of the cruiser Ataraxia when it responded to Jareni's distress signal. After the Ataraxia's drift of Jedi Vectors had launched, Nooranbakarakana alerted Kriss that the scanners were picking up multiple readings of other ships about to emerge from hyperspace, in response to the distress call Trennis had sent to the Nihil. Confirming that she had detected the approaching ships' song in the Force, Kriss ordered the Vectors to prepare for incoming.

After Nihil ships from Zeetar's Tempest had arrived in response to Trennis' signal and rescued the Ransacker from the apparently dicey circumstances it was in, Nooranbakarakana confirmed that the pirates had jumped into hyperspace. Kriss then ordered the Vectors to report in, before hoping that Trennis and Terec would be protected by the Force during their mission.

Personality and traits
As a Frozian, Nooranbakarakana had black eyes and was covered in brown fur, with long, delicate fingers and facial whiskers. During the staged skirmish in the Soola system, Nooranbakarakana remained calm while reporting to Marshal Kriss.

Equipment

Nooranbakarakana wore cream and brown Jedi robes. The Frozian wore a headset while serving on the Ataraxia.
