Description: The Util-313, also known as Jedi shuttle bus was a model of repulsorcraft manufactured by GoCorp that was used on Coruscant during the Clone Wars by members of the Galactic Senate, the Republic Military and the Jedi Order. Util-313s used by clone troopers were white and sported red markings with the Republic crest to denote its affiliation. At least one such example was present at 79's during the trackdown of CT-5555. During the Galactic Civil War, Util-313s were used on Vardos, Naboo, and Tatooine.

Characteristics
The shuttlebus was eighteen meters long and was similar in appearance to the Magnaline 3000 airbus, used as a public transport vessel in Galactic City.

Following the Battle of Coruscant, Supreme Chancellor Palpatine was escorted back to the Republic Executive Building by Obi-Wan Kenobi and Anakin Skywalker in a Jedi shuttlebus.

Kenobi then traveled to the Jedi Temple to report to the Jedi High Council. Several other shuttlebuses were docked at the Executive Building at that time, presumably used by Senators and Republic officials.
