Special Abilities:

Chalk White Skin: Imroosians evolved on a volcanic planet which has extremely hostile hot climate. Their skin helps them survive this climate by not losing any moisture to the surrounding air and being resistant to burning. In play this means they require only 50% of the drinking water of other species, and gain a +1D bonus to resist burns and heat.

Move: 10/12

Description: Imroosians were a sentient species that existed within the galaxy. During the High Republic Era, Archivist Ru-Ru was an Imroosian serving the Jedi Order at the temple on Banchii. Margo, Dryden Vos' concierge aboard First Light, was another notable Imroosian from the volcanic planet Imroosia. Imroosians developed flinty, chalk-like skin to adapt to their heated climate.
