Description: Giant mouse droids were droids similar to the MSE-6-series repair droid, although much larger. They were equipped with two photoreceptors atop an eyestalk, and rolled along on treads.

Droids of this kind could be found on board Imperial vessels like the Executor and the second Death Star. At least one was present when Vader made a surprise arrival at Death Star II to get Moff Tiaan Jerjerrod and his men back on schedule for completing construction of the station.
