

Robeskin

Type: Yuuzhan Vong biot clothing

Effect: Roll 1D: If the roll is 2, 4 or 6, the character wearing the Robeskin recovers 1 damage

Special: Yuuzhan Vong Biot: Yuuzhan Vong Biots, like themselves, are completely undetectable through the Force, and cannot be directly affected by it (indirect methods, such as throwing a rock at the biot, still work, but powers such as Lightsaber Combat, Detect Life or Telekinesis do not work).

Description: The Robeskin was a common form of clothing among the Yuuzhan Vong. Like all other biots, the Robeskin was a living organism that appeared to be a thick, jelly-like cloth. It provided little physical protection aside from the modesty of the wearer, but were nigh to impossible to kill. A Robeskin could be cut into pieces but would continue to grow, which allowed the shreds to be used as patches on other holed Robeskins. The Robeskin fed on the sweat and oils released by the wearer, and it could help the wearer to heal faster if they were injured by feeding on necrotic flesh and pathogens.
