Description: A type of blaster rifle that was effectively an 10.5 rifle was an interim design which incorporated elements of the earlier E-10 blaster rifle and the later E-11 medium blaster rifle.[1] The rifle retained the longer barrel and retractable stock of the E-10 but included the optical range finder scope found on the E-11. While the E-11 had already become the standard issue blaster rifle of the Stormtrooper Corps, many of the Imperial Army troopers who served as part of the Aldhani Garrison were equipped with[2] the earlier rifles.[1]
