Special Abilities

Floaters: Through natural ability, Zoomies float above the ground at an altitude of a meter or so, although they may go higher if they wish. The energy field which allows them to float also protects them and anyone riding them from the effects of the vast speed they can propel themselves at, making it seem a far more sedate speed.

Bite: Zoomies although docile, are actually Carnivores and can bite their prey for Str+1D damage.

Move: 150 (Flying)
Size: 5m long
Orneriness: 1D

Description: These large riding creatures of the Star Wars universe are a strange and fascinating sight. They are large, hovering creatures that look like giant, legless kittens. They are often used as mounts by the native people of the planets they inhabit.

The creatures are said to be very gentle and docile, and they make for very comfortable rides. They are also very fast, and they can easily travel over rough terrain. This makes them ideal for travel in the harsh environments of the Star Wars galaxy.

The creatures are not native to the Star Wars galaxy. They were brought to the galaxy by a race of aliens known as the Felucians. The Felucians used the creatures as mounts, and they were very important to their culture.

The creatures are said to be very intelligent, and they can understand simple commands. They are also very loyal to their masters, and they will protect them from harm.

The creatures are a very important part of the Star Wars universe. They are a symbol of the beauty and diversity of the galaxy, and they are a reminder of the importance of friendship and loyalty.

Here is a more detailed description of the creatures:

They have large, round heads with big, expressive eyes.
They have short, stubby legs and large, furry bodies.
They have a long, thin tail that they use for balance.
They have a soft, furry coat that is usually a light brown or cream color.
They have a gentle and docile personality.
