Description: The suicide shocker or electro capsule was a suicide-assisting weapon that could be implanted inside an individual's mouth. It was activated by biting down, which resulted in an electric shock that killed the user.

In 19 BBY, Clone X, a clone trooper sniper of the Galactic Empire, used the device while former Clone Captain Rex interrogated him on the planet Coruscant. Around 18 BBY, Imperial Captain Pearce killed himself by using a shocker after a clone resistance network took over his Gozanti-class cruiser over the planet Balmorra. On the moon Trask, a captain serving an Imperial remnant also used a capsule in 9 ABY while he was being interrogated by Mandalorian Lady Bo-Katan Kryze, who had taken over his Gozanti-class Assault cruiser.
