Description: Bufopel were a sentient humanoid species that lived in the galaxy. Some of them, known as the Bufopel Protectors, fought with the Alliance to Restore the Republic during the Galactic Civil War.

Biology and appearance
The Bufopel were a species of large-bodied sentient humanoids with four-fingered hands. Their immense strength made them formidable opponents capable of taking large amounts of blows.

Society and culture
As a species, the Bufopel were usually peaceful. However, in case of conflict, they would not hesitate to unite to defend themselves.

Bufopel in the galaxy
During the Galactic Civil War, Bufopel warriors known as Bufopel Protectors joined the ranks of the Alliance to Restore the Republic, a movement that sought to topple the Galactic Empire and restore democracy.

In 34 ABY, the Bufopel Rigfu Urcolla was seen in the Canto Bight casino on Cantonica when Finn and Rose Tico of the Resistance were performing a mission there.
