Description: The Imperial armored commando armor was a blaster resistant armor, used by the Imperial armored commandos in Moff Gideon's Imperial base on Mandalore. It reassembled the classic stormtrooper armor, and was made with an alloy of beskar, like that of Mandalorian armor, along with jetpacks, and vambraces, which were equipped with flamethrowers and whipcord launchers. Two commandos that escorted Moff Gideon had red-painted vambraces, leg armor, and red stripes on the sides of their helmets.
