The Force D6 / Force Wave

Name: Force Wave
Alignment: Dark side of the Force
Area: Galaxy Wide
Duration: Minutes to Days

Effect: The Force Wave effects force users, mainly Dark Side Users, magnifying their abilities and making them operate out of control.

At the Waves initiation each Force User in the area of effect must make a Willpower Test with a target number of their current Dark Side Points, or will lash out with an offensive Force Power (Force Lightning, Injure/Kill, Telekinetic Kill, etc) at a random target nearby.
Also during the duration of the Force Wave, they must make a similar Willpower every time they attempt to use a Force Power, if they do not succeed in activating their power by a number greater than Half their current Dark Side Points. Then the power either fails, lashes out uncontrollably or is unleashed as above as a offensive attack at someone nearby.

Description: A Force Wave was a phenomenon of the Force. Between 3 ABY and 4 ABY, a Force wave was released as a result of the destruction of the Fermata Cage and spread across the galaxy. As it rippled outward, Darth Sidious noted that his grip on the Force became tenuous. Later, when the Force wave returned, it caused a massive disturbance in the Force that caused Sly Moore, Sidious, and Darth Vader to lose control of their powers and devastate their immediate surroundings.
