Places of Interest

Statues of prophecy

The Statues of prophecy were two large statues hidden by clouds on the planet Dolgarak. One represented the Light Side of the Force, while the other represented the Dark. When rain fell from the clouds onto the rocks of the planet, it created prophetic images that lasted only a brief moment. Ara, a human from the statues' planet, was determined to cut off the Dark Side head to turn the tide of the war against the Sith.
