Description: Star navigator droids were droids that served on the Eye of Sion as part of Morgan Elsbeth's forces. They were capable of the vast calculations necessary in order to travel the Galactic Void and ultimately to another Galaxy. Using the henge on Seatos and the Star Map, the droids were able to calculate a safe route through the Pathway to Peridia. However if the connection to the map was ultimately lost the droids would ultimately be unable to plot the safe route and as a result the vessel would be lost in the void of space.
