Description: Spider-droids, also known as a disc droid, were a model of droid used by the Scourge as a vector to corrupt other droids, assimilating them as part of the Scourge.

History

Between 3 ABY and 4 ABY, the Spark Eternal artificial intelligence merged with a disc-like spider-droid that had been locked away by the Sith in the Fermata Cage aboard the Amaxine Space Station, creating the Scourge, which infiltrated an Imperial Star Destroyer. Aboard, one spider-droid battled the mouse droid Petyr. Many spider-droids were subsequently created and placed within the chassis of mouse droids that were deployed across the galaxy, spreading the Scourge.
