Description: This Sith-Imperial walker was a bipedal vehicle used by the Imperial Army during the Second Imperial Civil War.

Description

This walker model was armed with two cannons, situated on either side of the cockpit. Its "head" sloped backwards, similar to the AT-AR.

History

At least two of these walkers were used by the Imperial Army and participated in the ground assault on the Hidden Temple on Taivas in 138 ABY. There they supported AT-ATs in a role similar to the AT-STs over a century earlier.
