SPECIAL ABILITIES

Plant Manipulation: The Lonto have the ability to control the growth of plants and to manipulate various aspects of the plant, such as the amount of useful healing sap produced by Tragia Leaves, or the amount of fruit that a tree might bear. Depending on what they intend to do, the Gamesmaster sets a target number for the difficulty, so causing a tree to double it's size might require a Heroic roll, to get it to spontaneously grow fruit Difficult, but for these effects to take place over a longer period or have a lesser effect, then the target number might be as low as easy. The Lonto then must make a WIllpower or Control (if they have it) roll against this target number for their ability to work.
